PRIORITY 27 OF 33 · SCORE 2.3

FDIC

FDIC's spending is mostly the Deposit Insurance Fund resolving failed banks. Its fraud exposure is insider and borrower fraud that causes or follows bank failures, and the PPP lending that ran through banks. FDIC's public bank data is rich; the fit with the SBA work is mainly through PPP lender behavior.

INVESTIGATIONS WE PROPOSE

FDIC-1	PPP lender and fintech partner risk table. First prototype.
FDIC-2	Pre-failure signals for banks that failed 2019-2026.

EXPOSURE

- $4.6B in outlays but $148B in budgetary resources in FY2026 (the fund's balances).
- Bank fraud and PPP-related lender misconduct are FDIC OIG case types.

PUBLIC DATA WE USE

- FDIC BankFind and Call Reports: bank financials, failures, history.
- FDIC enforcement decisions and OIG reports.
- SBA PPP loan data by lender.

HOW WE DETECT IT

1. PPP lender outliers: banks and fintech partners with unusually high shares of PPP loans later flagged in the SBA work.
2. Pre-failure signals: banks with rapid growth in risky loan types and insider loans before failure.
